The Bhagavad Gita, more commonly known as the Gita, is part of the very popular Itihaas scripture, Mahabharata. If the Upanishads can be compared to the cow, the Gita is their milk. It is in the form of a dialogue between Lord Shri Krishna and the mighty Pandava warrior, Arjuna. The Kurukshetra battlefield is its place of origin. The Gita's central message to a person is to discharge one's duty however, hard or unpleasant it may be - to do it bravely and with selfless dedication. Everyone must perform Svadharma, to please God, to serve the world and to repay one's debt to society. There is inner Kukshetra battle taking place in all of us- in our mind where constant struggle is taking place between good and evil, right and wrong and we seek Divine grace to chose the right path.
