

AIM FOR SEVA PRESENTS BHO SHAMBHO

Friday, September 6 at 6pm @ The Egg's Hart Theater

Promising to be a spectacularly exciting night with two world-renowned dynamic classical flautists and their accompanists from two distinctly different musical styles (Hindustani or North Indian, and Carnatic or South Indian) playing together on the same stage. A short preview of the program is here: <https://youtu.be/soLFwMozxs0>

This donor appreciation event is free, by AIM for Seva Albany chapter, and passes need to be booked in advance by going to this link <https://www.aimforsevausa.org/albany>.

The mission of AIM For Seva is to transform rural India, one child at a time - by providing a unique model of caring for the child through support for their entire education in a free student home where all needs are taken care of at only $450/year per child (monthly donation of only $37.50). Over 100 such student homes in India are already making an impact on over 20 million people and this program needs your support to grow. The charity behind this worthy cause has received the independent Charity Navigator's highest award three years in a row! Do come for this show and enjoy the night knowing that your time and donation was well allocated.

AIM for SEVA
Presents

A Grand Musical Production
Bho Shambo
Carnatic & Hindustani Jugalbandi

Rakesh Chaurasia Shashank Subramanyam Jayateerth Mevundi

Friday, September 6th, 2019 at 6pm
Venue: Hart Theatre at The Egg, Empire State Plaza Albany

www.aimforsevausa.org

TRANSFORMING RURAL INDIA, ONE CHILD AT A TIME